PURPOSE. TRANSFORMATION. IMPACT.

TAMEKIA SWINT

Building confidence, belonging and healthier communities through education, leadership, faith and courageous conversation.

“ I believe transformation begins when people feel seen, equipped and empowered to become who they were created to be.

- TAMEKIA SWINT

PROFESSIONAL BIO

Tamekia Swint is a speaker, author, social entrepreneur, nonprofit founder, educator and Christian wellness coach whose work sits at the intersection of identity, belonging, leadership and transformation. She is the Founder and Executive Director of Styles 4 Kidz, a nonprofit organization that equips families, caregivers and professionals to provide culturally competent hair care for children with textured hair - especially youth in foster care, adoptive families and multiracial homes. Through this work, Tamekia has helped make hair care a larger conversation about dignity, confidence, culture and the right of every child to feel seen and celebrated.

A licensed Illinois hair braider and hair braiding instructor with more than 25 years of experience in natural hair, Tamekia combines practical expertise with a background in community health and business. She holds a B.S. in Community Health and an MBA, and brings an unusual blend of lived experience, entrepreneurship, nonprofit leadership and education to every room she enters.

Her voice extends beyond the salon through Conversations with Tamekia, a platform for candid discussions about hair, identity, race, belonging, family dynamics and the experiences of Black and multiracial youth. She also speaks on purpose-driven leadership, social entrepreneurship, founder sustainability, wellness and faith - helping people and organizations move from good intentions to meaningful, lasting impact.
